New: videos from Renault group press website site can be easily integrated on a website or blog

Videos now available for download on the international press website of Renault group can be easily integrated on a website or blog. Just click on the icon "Embed Video" to retrieve the corresponding HTML code. This feature is available for all videos uploaded from 28 March 2014.

Moreover, a You Tube player is now available on the press website. As a result, the communications from the site may refer to videos published on Renault You Tube channel. Similarly, these videos can be directly integrated on a website or blog using the "Embed Video" feature.
