PARIS MOTOR SHOW: RENAULT IMMERSSES 100 FEMALE STUDENTS IN THE AUTO INDUSTRY.

On October 4, 12 women engineer and technician sponsors from Renault took part in a new “discovery day” for 100 female students.

Organized by the “Elles bougent” association for the Paris Motor Show, the event immersed the students in a sector where innovation and creativity are key to success. The young women visited the stands of carmakers and partner suppliers and talked with professionals about their diverse jobs, training and passion for the auto industry. A competition has been organized in parallel in which the students will work on their vision of the “Car of 2050”.

This initiative is part of the women@renault plan, one of whose objectives is to employ a higher percentage of women.
